10 RECORD-KEEPING

10.1 Overview of Section

- This section outlines the statutory provisions concerning record-keeping for the purposes of countering money laundering and the financing of terrorism. It also sets AML/CFT_Codes of Practice and provides guidance on the keeping of records. More general obligations on supervised persons to maintain records in relation to their business are not addressed in this section—these may extend the period for which records must be kept.
- 2. Record-keeping is essential to facilitate effective investigation, prosecution and confiscation of criminal property. If law enforcement agencies, either in Jersey or elsewhere, are unable to trace criminal property due to inadequate record-keeping, then prosecution for money laundering or the financing of terrorism and confiscation of criminal property may not be possible. Likewise, if the funds used to finance terrorist activity cannot be traced back through the financial system, then the sources and the destination of terrorist financing will not be identified.
- 3. Record-keeping is also essential to facilitate effective supervision, allowing the JFSC to supervise compliance by supervised persons with statutory requirements and AML/CFT codes of Practice. Records provide evidence of the work that a supervised person has undertaken to comply with these requirements. Records also provide a necessary context for the opinion that may be prepared on the truth and fairness of a supervised person's financial statements by its external auditor.
- 4. Records may be kept:
  - > by way of original documents
  - > by way of copies of original documents (certified where appropriate)
  - in scanned form or
  - > in computerised or electronic form.

10.2 Recording evidence of identity and other CDD measures

Overview

- 5. In relation to evidence of a customer's identity, a supervised person must keep a copy of, or references to the evidence of the customer's identity obtained during the application of CDD measures. In circumstances where it would not be possible to take a copy of the evidence of identity (such as where evidence is obtained at a customer's home and photocopying facilities are not available), a record will be made of the type of document and its number, date and place of issue, so that the document may be obtained from its issuing authority if necessary.
- 6. In addition, a supervised person must keep supporting documents, data and information in respect of a business relationship or one-off transaction including;

10.3 Recording transactions

Overview

13. Details of all transactions carried out by a supervised person with or for a customer in the course of carrying on a supervised business must be recorded. Additional records in support of such transactions, in whatever form they are used, e.g. credit/debit slips, cheques, will also be kept.

Statutory requirements (paraphrased wording)

- 14. Article 19(2)(b) of the Money Laundering Order requires a relevant person to keep a record containing details of every transaction carried out with or for the customer in the course of a financial services business. In every case, sufficient information must be recorded to enable the reconstruction of individual transactions.
- 15. Article 19(4) of the Money Laundering Order requires a relevant person to keep records in such a manner that they can be made available swiftly to the Commission, police officer or customs officer for the purpose of complying with a requirement under any enactment, e.g. a production order under Article 40 of the Proceeds of Crime Law.
- 16. Article 20(3) of the Money Laundering Order requires a relevant person to keep records relating to transactions for at least five years from the date when all activities relating to the transaction are completed.
- 17. Article 20(5) of the Money Laundering Order allows the Commission to require a relevant person to keep records of transactions for a period that is longer than five years.

AML/CFT Codes of Practice

- 18. A record must be kept of the following for every transaction carried out in the course of a business relationship or one-off transaction:
  - the name and address of the customer
  - if a monetary transaction, the kind of currency and the amount
  - if the transaction involves a customer's account, the number, name or other identifier for the account
  - > the date of the transaction
  - details of the counterparty, including account details
  - > the nature of the transaction and
  - details of the transaction.
- 19. Customer transaction records must provide a clear and complete transaction history of incoming and outgoing funds or assets.

20. A supervised person may demonstrate that it has kept details of a transaction where it records:

- valuation(s) and price(s)
- the form in which funds are transferred (e.g. cash, cheque, electronic transfer)
- memoranda of instruction(s) and authority(ies)
- memoranda of purchase and sale
- custody of title documentation.
- 21. A supervised person may demonstrate that it has a clear and complete transaction history where it records all transactions undertaken on behalf of a customer within that customer's records. For example, a customer's records should include all requests for wire transfer transactions where settlement is provided other than from funds drawn from a customer's account with the supervised person.
- 22. When original vouchers or documents are used for account entry, e.g. credit/debit slips and cheques, and not returned to the customer, a supervised person may demonstrate that it has kept details of a transaction where such vouchers or documents are kept for at least one year to assist forensic analysis.

10.5 Access and retrieval of records

Deleted: AML/CFT Handbookfor the Legal Sector¶
→ Part 1: Section 10 - Record Keeping¶

Deleted: to

Overview

36. The Money Laundering Order does not specify where records should be kept, but the overriding objective is for supervised persons to be able to access and retrieve relevant information without unreasonable delay.

AML/CFT Code of Practice

37. A supervised person must keep documents, data or information obtained under identification measures in a way that facilitates on-going monitoring of each business relationship.

- 38. For all other purposes, the records kept by a supervised person must be readily accessible and retrievable by the person. Unless otherwise specified, records relating to evidence of identity, other CDD measures, and transactions must be accessible and retrievable within 5 working days (whether kept in or outside of Jersey), or such longer period as agreed with the JFSC. Other records must be accessible and retrievable within 10 working days (whether kept in or outside of Jersey), or such longer period as agreed with the JFSC.
- 39. A supervised person must periodically review the condition of paper and electronic records and consider the adequacy of its record-keeping arrangements.
- A supervised person must periodically test procedures regarding access to and retrieval of its records.
- 41. Records must be maintained in a readable format, Where records are kept other than in readable form, they must be maintained such that they can be produced in readable form at a computer terminal in Jersey.
- 42. When original documents (such as transaction-related vouchers used to input data onto computer systems) that would ordinarily have been destroyed are requested for investigation purposes, a supervised person must ascertain whether the documents have in fact been destroyed.

10.5.1 External record_keeping

Overview

43. Where records are kept by another person (group or otherwise), or kept outside Jersey, such as under an outsourcing or storage arrangement, this will present additional factors for a supervised person to consider, Regardless of the particular circumstances, the supervised person remains responsible for compliance with all record-keeping requirements.

44. Where an obliged person ceases to trade or have a relationship with a customer for whom it has provided an assurance to a supervised person, particular care needs to be taken to check whether the assurance continues to have effect, or to ensure that evidence of identity is obtained from the obliged person. Section 5 of this Handbook deals with reliance arrangements made with obliged persons.

AMI /CET Code of Practice

45. A supervised person must not:

- allow another person (group or otherwise) to keep records or
- > _keep records outside Jersey

where access and retrieval of records (by that person, the JFSC and/or law enforcement) is likely to be impeded by confidentiality or data protection restrictions.

10.5.2 Reorganisation or termination

В

Overview

46. Record-keeping requirements persist and are unaffected where a supervised person:

- > merges with another person
- > _continues as another person
- js taken over by another person
- › is subject to internal reorganisation
- > terminates its activities or
- > transfers a block of customers (i.e. a "book of business") to another person.

AML/CFT Code of Practice

47. A supervised person that undergoes mergers, continuance, takeovers or internal reorganisations, must ensure that records remain readily accessible and retrievable for the required periods stated above. This extends to the rationalising of computer systems and storage arrangements.

48. Record-keeping arrangements must be agreed with the JFSC where a supervised person terminates its activities or transfers a block of customers to another person.

10.6 Disclosure of records

Overview

- 49. The FATF Recommendations identify a number of cases where a financial institution (or PNFBP) may provide an assurance to another that it will provide documents, data or information:
  - > FATF Recommendation 13 provides that a respondent institution (in the context of a correspondent banking relationship) should be able to provide relevant customer identification data upon request to the correspondent financial institution
  - > FATF Recommendation 17 provides that a financial institution relying upon a nother party should be required to take a dequate steps to be satisfied that relevant documentation relating to CDD requirements will be made available by that party upon request and without delay.
- 50. Accordingly, it is important that where the respondent institution or party relied upon is a supervised person in Jersey, there should be no legal impediment to providing the data and information requested.

Statutory requirements (paraphrased wording)

- 51. Article 16(7) of the Money Laundering Order states that, where a relevant person (including person who was formerly a relevant person) (A) has given an assurance under Article 16 (or under a provision that applies outside Jersey that is equivalent to Article 16) to another relevant person (B), Person A must make available to Person B, at Person B's request, evidence of identity that Person A has obtained under Article 3 of the Money Laundering Order. Person A commits an offence under the Proceeds of Crime Law where it fails do so.
- 52. Article 17C(4) of the Money Laundering Order states that, where a relevant person (A) has given an assurance under Article 17C(2)(b) (or under a provision that applies outside Jersey that is equivalent to Article 17C) to another person (B), Person A may make available to Person B, at Person B's request, information and evidence of identity that Person A has obtained under Article 3 of the Money Laundering Order. However, A is not required by law to do so.
- 53. Article 19(7) of the Money Laundering Order applies to a relevant person carrying on deposittaking business (a respondent) who is in receipt of banking services provided by an institution whose address is outside Jersey (a correspondent). It allows the respondent to provide the correspondent with evidence, documents, data and information obtained under Article 3 of the Money Laundering Order on request. However, the respondent is not required by law to provide information to the correspondent.
